Grasses - 'Millet'

Pennisetum Glaucom, commonly referred to as Millet-Jester and Millet-Jade Princess.

Jester grows thick, dense and bushy with leaves springing up in a bright chartreuse, maturing to red, bronze and finally a burgundy foliage. Jester can reach up to 42" tall and 36" wide at its maturity. Jester produces deep purple seedheads, approximately 9-12" tall, that make for breathtaking color.

Jade Princess grows thick, dense and bushy with leaves maturing in beautiful chartreuse shades. Jade Princess produces seedheads of bronze, approximately 8-10" tall, and matures to height of 24-30" tall and 18-24" wide that makes for an impressive backdrop.

Both of these grasses are beautiful as a backdrop for smaller bedding plants in a sunny garden spot. They prefer full sun and tolerate drought conditions. They prefer sandy to normal soil, well drained. Perfect in large areas!
