Celosia - '

Celosia is commonly referred to as Cockscomb. It is a favorite among landscapers and homeowners alike. It has lovely dense foliage and striking shoots of lasting color when it blooms. Celosia grows thick stalks that produce a large brightly colored "plume" of color. Celosia prefers full sun but will handle a few hours of shade as well. It prefers average but well drained soil for it to thrive. For best results, don't over-water and plant after last frost. Celosia does very well in Summer and warm weather climates. Just remember, plants aren't as "drought tolerant" in baskets and containers!

Celosia is available in Amigo Mix, Fashion Look Mix, New Look, Fresh Look Mix, Red and Orange.
