SERRANO PEPPER

Known for being five times hotter than the Jalapeño pepper, the Serrano Pepper is perfect for adding some pep to your step and some heat to your salsa. This perennial pepper grows about 1½-2" long with an elongated cylinder, a blunt end, and is bright red to green.

Harvest Instructions

Harvest when they reach 1-2 inches long. The color will also have started to change from green to red. The color of the pepper determines how hot it will be.

You should also avoid touching your eyes or mouth when harvesting
